The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negatived by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1-18 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Scirica et al 5,733,293 in view of Thrun 4,243,140.

Scirica shows a package for a needle and suture (Figure 3A), including a base portion 66, cover 68, a needle park, a rail 74 defining a suture race 70, and an aperture 72 for passage of the suture. The cover is retained by tabs 76. However, the cover is completely removable from the base, so it may be lost or misplaced. One would recognize that it would be desirable to attach the cover to the base. For example, Thrun shows that a suture container may have a base 14, and a cover 16 attached to the base by means of a living hinge 20, 22. This would be desirable in the suture package of Scirica to prevent the cover from being lost. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to attach the base and cover of Scirica by a living hinge, as suggested by Thrun.
